

MILITARY ROUTINE FOR TULSA GIRLS

Regular Routine at Camp Tailequah Under Direction of "Y" Man.

NO U. S. UNIFORMS

Setting Up Exercises Each Morning; for All Campfire Girls.

Military training for girls of Tulsa and Oklahoma will be inaugurated at the summer camp at Tailequah, which is to begin Saturday. F. E. Peterson, physical director of the Tulsa Y. M. C. A., has agreed to establish a regular routine of drills and other activities which may place the girls on a par with their brothers-in-arms.

The girls will be organized into a regular camp, with campfire girls in top. It is planned that the officers will be appointed from the other leaders and from those who show the most skill in "soldering." Mr. Peterson will be captain.

The day's program for the girls will begin at 7 o'clock in the morning with setting up exercises and a drill will be held during the afternoon. The girls will be held to every detail of pose and equipment, with the exercises being military.

Although the camp does not feature the preparedness idea, it is probable that the military air will be one of the most popular items of the camp. Many cities in the east have promoted camps for girls with nothing but military routine, providing uniforms, guns and regular army equipment.

The camp is for all campfire girls of the state and is being promoted mainly by the Tulsa Y. W. C. A. The meeting is to be had at Camp Tailequah, on the Illinois, which is the permanent camping grounds of the state Young Men's Christian association, who are loaning it to the girls for the camp.

Tulsa and Muskogee will be the main contributors to the attendance at the camp, although Okmulgee, Sapulpa and other cities on the eastern side of the state are expected to swell the number to more than a hundred.

Varied Routine.

Camp routine will be widely varied, centering at once to the physical enjoyment and to the recreative enjoyment and educational features. Boating, fishing and swimming of the finest sort are provided by the Illinois, which runs through the grounds. Great woods are ideal for tramping and tennis courts for those who enjoy the more refined pleasures.

In the evening the campfire circle will hold forth, with experienced story-tellers on hand to provide the entertainment. Vesper services will be held in the afternoon in the open air so that the girls may appreciate the religious brought out by such mode of service.

Miss Florence Hanson, secretary of the local Y. W. C. A., will have charge of the camp. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Buchner will be there as will Prof. F. J. Katz, principal of the high school. Mr. Katz is an expert on astronomy and will give moonlight talks to the girls. Miss Clara Wollenbach, a registered nurse, will attend the camp to safeguard the health of the girls.

"Y" TO CELEBRATE FOURTH WITH EATS

"Citizenship Dinner" Is Unique Plan; Will be Get-together Affair.

A "citizenship dinner," at which young men of Tulsa who have reached the age of 21 during the last year will be guests, will feature the Fourth of July celebration of the Young Men's Christian association this year. C. J. Copman, chairman of a committee on arrangements for the fair, made known the details of the dinner yesterday.

The theory of the dinner is that the young men who are reaching the voting age will need something to supplement the fireworks display and general Fourth of July celebration which they have enjoyed in their youth and the "Y" intention is to furnish the substitute.

Speakers or orators in the city will be arranged on the program and their themes will deal with the responsibilities and privileges which devolve upon the youth of America. It is probable that the phrase of "maximum preparedness" will be dwelt upon a good deal for the meeting.

"It is our idea," said C. E. Buchner, general secretary, yesterday, "to take the office of the fathers who are too busy to give attention to their sons at this responsible time. Many of the young men of Tulsa are away from home and need some attention as they reach manhood."

A general invitation will be extended through the press and by personal letters to all young men in Tulsa who have reached their majority during the past year.

Oklahoma Health Board Issues Bulletin on Subject.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 26.—A bulletin of the state health office is devoted to the mosquito and methods of elimination. The bulletin recommends the following for mosquito prevention of the mosquito. It points out that the best protection against the malaria-mosquito lies in the suppression of its breeding places. It should be remembered that the mosquito can breed not only in swamps, but in open ponds, puddles, natural collections of water in woods and fields, in fact, in almost any stagnant water. Piling up logs, placing and draining the surface of the land and dredging are the most effective and far-reaching methods. Sometimes, however, these methods are too expensive or otherwise impractical. Oil can then be used upon the surface of the water as it destroys the larvae. At Pansamia a laricide, consisting of a mixture of carbolic acid, powdered resin, caustic soda and water, was used with excellent results against yellow fever mosquitoes. Fish, among the greatest natural enemies of the mosquito, eating the larvae. The edges of ponds and lakes must be kept free, otherwise the larvae multiply where the fish cannot get at them.

FORMULATE CRIMINAL CODE

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 26.—Adoption of a suitable code by peace officers of the state when they can, at a nominal expense, send descriptions of men wanted to officers in the state in forged in letters that are being sent to officers in the state by Chief Nichols of the city, who is secretary of the Oklahoma Peace Conference.

Chief Nichols has been in force the cost of sending information concerning men wanted is as much as to almost prohibit such communication. It is explained that a code could be perfected that would be effective and operated at a nominal cost. The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the peace officers held in this city, but no definite action suggested at the time. Chief Nichols has taken it up himself.
